ADIOS!

Adios love! Once more Adios!
Once more press kisses on my lips
And eyelids where the tear drops swell
And where the glistening lashes sleep.
Adios love! no more perfume.
We'll watch the yellow sunset glow
Or lay on the deck and crimson lake
Where waves dash softly to and fro.
No more we'll mark the shadows grim
That gather round the crowded park;
And with a sigh and a tear to move
Like specters playing hide and seek.
No more we'll count the silver stars
And wear them with some tender rhyme;
Or sing the simple songs of love
Or list to some far church bell's chime.
No more we'll wander hand in hand,
Or twine the daisies' snow and gold
With "maiden's hair" and fragrant fringe
Of violets in purple fold.
No more, Adios, love Adios!
And thus for aye we sadly part,
"Tis bitter, but we know 'tis best—
"Adios" parts, not hearts from heart.

C. B. S.

The ladies composing the C. B. S. held their regular weekly meeting at the residence of Mrs. James Glass, senior, corner of South and Osage Thursday afternoon. Among other business it was decided to forego the monthly entertainments during the Lenten season, but continue the weekly meetings for the transaction of such business as pertains to their organization. The ladies are gratified and acknowledge with thanks the very generous support they have received from their patrons. The next meeting of the society will take place next Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. P. O'Connell, East Main street.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. Wm. McClaren celebrated the fifth birthday of her little daughter Mamie yesterday afternoon, very pleasantly. The little folks had a merry time with games etc., and partaking of very choice refreshments.

ments. Mamie received a number of thoughtful and pretty little presents from her young friends, and will long remember the occasion. Among the guests were: Carrie and Minnie David, Minnie Lewman and Jessie Blair. Several young folks were present also. Among them Mrs. Devaux, Mrs. Al Ramsey, Mrs. Al Blair, Miss Stella Knapp and Mr. Lewman.

SUNDAY SOCIETY.

The "Sunbeam society" of the Congregational church met at the residence of Miss Carrie Young, on Seventh street last Monday night and had a particularly interesting meeting. The programme of recitations, essays, music, etc., was carried out to the letter, and this, with the discussion of light refreshments, made up a very pleasurable evening.

Among those present were: Misses Anna and Minnie Hahn, Sadie Moses, Lucy Ainsworth, Emma Hill, Ella Meriz, Sylvia Sheldon, Flora Hale, May Gold, — Diehl, of Clinton, and Messrs Chas. West, George and Frank Waller, John Hill, George Pringle, Will West, Charles Farnham, Harry Moss and others. The society will meet in two weeks at the residence of J. M. Meriz on Broadway.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Belle Herrold celebrated her birthday last Friday night very delightfully at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Herrold, on Fifth street.

A large number of her friends were present, and the merry company whiled the time away very rapidly with music, games, etc. Miss Belle was made the recipient of a handsome dressing case, hand sachel, numerous cards and other presents, and she will long remember the event pleasantly. A supper very elegantly prepared was served, to which full justice was accorded.

The guests were Misses May and June Cobine, Addie Edgar, Addie West, Mattie Kennedy, Lena Farnham, Flora Hatch, Sallie Major, Stella Ellis, Caddie Hughes, Lou Devo, and Messrs Charles Talbot, O. Terry, Everett Farnham, Will Ramsey, Will Snell, Will Ellis, John Hill, George Waller, Jack Perry, Frank Hughes and Chastine.

EVENING PARTY.

A party was given at the residence of Mr. Louis Deutsch, Friday night, in honor of Miss Dollie Deutsch and Master Solie Deutsch, which was pronounced by those in attendance as being more than usually elegant. The residence of Mr. Deutsch is commodious and arranged with a view to large entertainments, and the young friends of Miss Dollie and Master Solie found ample opportunity for indulgence in games, etc. Friend's band was in attendance also and discoursed some sweet strains to which the young and old danced.

A supper was also served of rare excellence, comprising everything that the market, the season and careful taste could suggest.
Several gentlemen and ladies were present, as well as the children, the former enjoying themselves with billiards, etc., the latter with noting the merriment of youth and happy hearts.

Among those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Highleyman, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fielesman, Mrs. Richard Ritter, Mrs. A. R. Easton, Misses Mary Bookwalter, Allie Ritter, and Della Hardestie, and Messrs. Fred Guenther and Prof. Webb. HOLDEN.

—The concert of music of the double quartette, was greeted with a fair audience in English hall, Tuesday evening. The chorus was composed of the best musical talent in the city, it being strictly a home affair, under the direction of Prof. C. W. Bohnhorst. The audience was an appreciative one and the programme was well received.

—The Knights of Pythias' banquet, at English hall, last Wednesday evening, was one of the best attended, thoroughly enjoyable occasions which has taken place during this season of prolific festivities. Splendid music, beautiful ladies, gallant gentlemen, humorous speeches and an unsurpassed supper made a combination which brings forth fruit meet unto superlative pleasure. The knights gave an uniform drill which was one of the features. After several speeches and some excellent quartette, duets and solos, supper was announced. Every want was anticipated and gratified. The society is composed of our best citizens and this exhibition of its hospitality will materially increase its numbers. After the tables were cleared away and a portion of the older members had sought that rest which becomes the honest, the young folks were soon lost in the entrancing whirl of the graceful waltz.

CHESS AND CHECKERS.

All communications, answers and questions intended for this department should be addressed to the Chess Editor, B. Bazo.

PROBLEMS in both games, if considered worthy, will be accepted from contributors.

HEREAFTER, problems, for convenience and reference, will be numbered consecutively, beginning with this number.

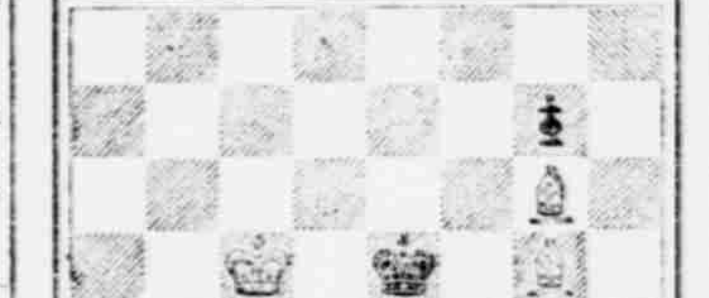

Problem in Checkers.

White to move and win.

CHES.

Problem No. 4. The following problem is given by the Southern Trade Gazette and was composed by Dr. S. Gold, Vienna, Austria.

White to play and mate in four moves.

SOLUTIONS.

Solution of chess problem of Feb. 24th, given by Dr. T. T. Mayors:
KEY: Q to K; 3; then if K to Q 2 QxR and mate; if P to Q then KxR and mate; if P to Q 5 then Q to Kt. 5 and mate; if R to K then Q to K 8.
The following persons have sent solutions to the checker problem of Feb. 24th:
Mrs. George Scott, Sedalia; R. J. Reese, Sedalia; "Knobnoster" Knobnoster.
The following is the solution as given by each of them:

White	Black
1...32 to 37.	24 to 15.
2...31 to 26	24 to 31.
3...21 to 25.	31 to 22.
4...25 to 9.	Drawn.

In answer to inquiries from numerous amateurs the following rules are given:

First. In checkers for the better uniformity of explanations and so that the black men are always given precedence.

Second. In beginning a game choice of men is generally decided by lot, and the winner takes the black men and moves first; the men and move being exchanged alternately in each succeeding game.

Third. The white spots on the board are those most usually occupied by the men.

In order to record games and moves a checker board is numbered from left to right as follows:

Place the board before you with a double white corner at your right hand, your opponent at the other side having the black men and commencing at his side of the board in his double column number across the board the four white checks, and commencing again at your left with five, number the next line and so continue through the thirty-two white spots, ending at your own white corner, always remembering the notation begins on the side occupied by the black men.

In chess the white men for like purposes have the precedence.

The white king in placing the pieces occupies the spot on the right of this queer, thus placing the black king opposite on the left of his king.

Notes

—Dr. Zukertort says St. Louis has the strongest amateur players he has met in his travels.

—Zukertort's to Louisville, has perceptibly revived the demand for chess furnishing that city.

—Miss Beech has assumed editorial management of the chess department of the Sheffield Independent.

—Zukertort the past week played twelve games of chess blindfolded, at Quebec, winning ten and drawing one.

—The Globe Democrat has adopted the plan of leaving to its correspondence the number of moves to be made in the solution of the problem.

—Winaver and Weiss, in their Vienna tour, played one of the most remarkable games on record, scoring 270 moves in eighteen hours, and ending in a draw.

—Mr. Ahrensburg, of the Manhattan club, was badly worsted in his visit to Nashville to beat its champion, Mr. Hodges. The score stood: Hodges 8; Ahrensburg 3.

—A landlord in England has been fined for permitting the playing of chess for a shilling a game, the magistrate ruling that it was gambling in the meaning of the law.

Station House Slate.

Sixteen tramps were given lodging in the cooler last night.

The charge of vagrancy appeared against the names of James McCarty, Anthony Howard, James O'Brien and Jack Thorne.

The name of Johnny Bull was entered for drunkenness and exposure of person.

Tish White, the irrepressible boot black, prompted another coon's bed and will be compelled to establish his title to-morrow morning to the couch from which he was so rudely ejected by the police.

JEFFERSON CITY.

Personal Mention and Items of General Interest—Certificate of Corporate Existence.

Special to the Bazaar.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 1.
—A heavy snow storm set in this morning and the ground is covered to the depth of three inches.

—The Missouri river is full of moving ice at this point, and communication with Cedar City, the terminus of the Chicago & Alton railway, has been somewhat retarded for the last three or four days. The owners of the ferry are making extensive repairs on the machinery and boilers of the boat. This, in connection with the heavy ice, has made trips across the river uncertain.

—Interest in spring elections is increasing and candidates are announcing themselves numerous. The contest for mayor will be between Hon. Joe R. Edwards, the present incumbent, and Mr. Fred. H. Binder. The same gentleman entered the lists last spring and Mr. Edwards was elected by a small majority. The contest between the two will be close and warm, as they are both popular gentlemen.
